Opening Statements: N/A

Parliamentarian, Ella Nichols:

Thought of the Day: “Be the energy you want to attract.”

The assembly will be on Teams tomorrow 12:45 about the fine arts. Ella explains about the general details of the assembly, such as how Ms. Mozer is guiding the assembly with art students. She also notifies how people should make announcements on All Students, and multiple announcements cannot be made.

Sergeant at Arms, Nathan Kim:

Updates on the Pen Pal committee. 38 people signed up for the committee. Nathan gives a thanks to everyone who signed up. There are 24 people in the committee to help with the entire process. He expresses gratitude for people’s interest with the project. The committee met up today to discuss and mix people up together. This Wednesday, there will be another meeting for mailing to remote and in-person students.

Secretary, Caroline Nelson:

Caroline was absent today. Ava Dowden covers for Caroline Nelson. Last week, Caroline met up with people for the STAB program. Students in the program felt it was beneficial. Caroline will discuss the pros and cons and will also discuss the program with Dr. Frye next week.

Treasurer, Marie Naylor:

Marie posted the budget for the clubs. Clubs have their budgets approved now. Many clubs posted their budgets last minute, unfortunately. Some clubs posted the forms late but were accepted regardless. Marie wants the Juniors and Sophomores to reiterate the importance of turning budgets in on time. The Activities Committee have been using a good amount of their budget, and the Pen Pal committee budget has not been accounted for.

Vice President, Joy Buchi:

This weekend there are no events due to Spring Break. This past week, there were numerous activities and events. Wednesday featured the St. Patrick's Day potluck event. On Friday, there was the Retirement Party, which went well. Joy expresses gratitude for Katherine Rutschilling and Veda Joshi. 7:00pm Friday was the Dodgeball event. On Saturday, there was a Water Balloon Fight event which was well received by the student population. On Sunday, there was a bagel event with cultural music. After Spring Break, there will be more events planned. Food Truck Wednesdays will start to happen the following weeks. As for prom, contracts have been exchanged, and signatures are required. The theme for prom will be the "Next/Oscars". The focus will be on celebrity-style wonder. Joy explains that the prom will have very cute themes and decorations.

President, May Jung:

May was absent. Carson substituted and explained that the Dragon Talks are going well. Carson has been talking with Mr. Wooten and will have a meeting with him Friday, arranged with Mr. Barry. Elbread adds on, talking about the status of the Dragon Talk speakers. They mostly seem to be working hard and in good progress. Tatiana also spoke about the successful advertising of the event and commented on future advertising.

Sponsor Statements:

Mr. Barry: Mr. Barry is happy to being part of SGA meetings again.

Ms. McMacken: Ms. McMacken was absent today.

Closing Remarks:

Joy remarked that food and drinks will not be allowed during SGA meetings after the break. She then wishes everyone a happy Monday.
